Additional Information

Fuel Policy

The vehicle will be supplied with a full tank of fuel. It should be returned full or refuelling charges will apply.

Details of the costs of refuelling can be provided when you collect your vehicle.

Licence Requirements

Licence requirements can vary from country to country, between suppliers within an individual country, and occasionally for different periods of rental duration.

In general, all drivers are required to hold a current, full, unrestricted driver's licence valid for the entire period for which the vehicle is rented. Probationary licences are not accepted.

If you are driving in a foreign country (ie a country for which you do not hold the local current, full, unrestricted driver's licence), we would advise you to check with your own country's motoring authority and/or your chosen supplier's Support Centre before you begin travelling to determine:

- whether your licence meets the requirements for the supplier in the country in which you intend to drive
- whether your licence requires a certified translation into the foreign country's language
- whether it is preferable or necessary to obtain an International Driving permit

You will need to bring all documentation (eg drivers licence plus any of certified translation and /or International Driving permit as required) required by the supplier with you to present at time of vehicle collection.

Suppliers may refuse a rental to a customer who is unable to provide all required licence and other documentation they require.
